Although the author compiled the contact information presented in this document and is responsible for its content, a community effort was employed in the rough draft stage of this information product. All seven counties in Greater Portland have great websites and were asked to review draft versions of this document. The “intended community” (see page 3) for this information product was ask via blog postings and other social media methods to reply to the author about whether he was on the right track in compiling information that might be useful. The author then changed the focus where necessary and revised the documents after heard from representatives of the counties and the local real estate community.

This resource guide includes more than 60 websites collected during the period from February 26 through April 23, 2013. While every attempt has been made to include as many websites as possible that are useful, please notify the author of those you wish to have considered for upcoming editions of this resource guide.

Resource Guides are intended as mini-directories of information for property assessment administration professionals, tax professionals, property valuation specialists, and the general public. Resource Guides are not intended to give specific advice to practitioners and the public where local and/or state tax laws and generally accepted practices conflict with the position taken by the author.

Websites listed are not endorsed, nor is the author or Local Government Services International responsible for their content.

¹ Defined by the U. S. Office of Management and Budget as the Portland-Vancouver-Hillsboro, OR-WA Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA). Also known as the Portland Metropolitan Area or Greater Portland.
